MISS NATALIE DRIGGS AND FRIENDS LUNCH TOGETHER.

Weddings and a Hint of Coming Hospitalities-Timely Personal Notes.

Mrs. Driggs, wife of Commander Driggs, entertained at a luncheon today in honor of her debutante daughter, Miss Natalie Driggs, one of the most attractive in the group of young girls who will participate in the gayeties this winter for the first time, but whose school life and holiday vacations have already made her acquainted with most of the younger set now in soclety at the capital. The luncheon table was a most dainty arrangement in pink and white and the guests seated round the board with the hostess and her daughter were Miss Clabaugh. Miss Louise Ryan, Miss Murray, Miss Glennon, Miss Leutze, Miss Hatfield, Miss Tanner, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Hannah Taylor and Miss Brady of Baltimore.

. Miss Nellie Florence Rowe.

Eleanor Rowe, 1100 H street northwest. The bride was escorted by her trother, Mr. Benson Rowe. The maid of honor was Miss Virginia E. Hunter and the best man Mr. Harry Allea. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe dechire over white taffeta, trimmed with princess lace. It was made by her mother and greatly admired. The maid of honor was gowned in white lace over white taffeta. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Eleaner Rowe, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black chiffon over taffeta. The ceremony was attended by only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom. After the wedding there was a reception. Those who assisted in receiving were Miss Ivy E. Simpson, who were a gown of cream crepe de chine; Miss Pearl Hammack, who was attirned in white net over silk, and Mrs. F. L. Fridley, who were white chiffen voile over taffeta.

Later in the evening the young couple left for a trip to the north. The going-away gown of the bride was of brown broadcloth with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will be at home after January 1 at 934 B street southwest.

One of yesterday's quiet home weddings was that of Miss Ethel Yates Farmer of Oil City, Pa., and Charles Franklin Fuller of Washington, D. C., which took place at 6 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Percy C. Adams, at 1507 Park road. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom were present, about forty in all. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Roch-ford Stetson of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd. The bride wore a sheer white gown of silk, trimmed in Valenciennes lace. She dispensed with a veil and there lace. She dispensed with a veil and there were no attendants. After the ceremony a collation was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Fuller departed for a wedding tour of Pennsylvania and New York states. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farmer of Oil City, Pa., and well-known in social circles in Pa., and well-known in social circles in Washington, where she has spent several winters. Mr. Fuller has many friends in collegiate and fraternal life of Washington, being a graduate in the scientific and law departments of George Washington University and prominently identified with the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He is at present connected with the civil service commission where he is engaged in a special mission, where he is engaged in a special line of investigation in railroad statistics. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will be at home to their friends at their apartments in the Ilkley, after January 1.
